DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3754

2. Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 2, lines 4-5 recites the limitation ‘...an axis passing through the end thereof which is on the far side of the rinse agent dispenser device with respect to the actuator device.’ Examiner is unable to reasonably ascertain what the applicant intended with this limitation. It is clear that the control lever is rotatable about an axis, but applicant's attempt to describe the orientation of the axis is unclear. Specifically, it is unclear how an end of the control lever can be on the far side of the rinse agent dispenser device with respect to the actuator device when the actuator device is seemingly in the middle of the dispenser device. Appropriate correction is required. For purposes of examination, examiner assumes applicant intended the axis to pass through the end of the control lever furthest away from the actuator device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 3,827,600 to Janke (Janke).

Janke shows a dispensing device (10) for a door (15) of a dishwasher comprising a first dispenser device (32) and a second dispenser device (16), an electrically controlled actuator device (50) connected to the first dispenser device and connected to the second dispenser device by a transmission mechanism (51, with 45 and 28) including a pivotable interconnecting element (51 with 45) which has one end (end with 52) pivoted directly onto a movable control member (28) of the second dispenser device, wherein upon first excitation the dispensing device only releases the contents of the first dispenser device (col. 4, ll. 45-49).

Regarding claim 2, the transmission mechanism includes a control lever (45) rotatable about an axis (46) on its end furthest from the actuator device (Figures 3-5).

Regarding claim 5, the control member is translated along its own axis without being rotatable about that axis (Figures 3-5).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3 and 4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims as well as rewritten to overcome the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this office action.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- US Patent No. 5,133,487 to Russi and US Patent No. 7,047,987 B2 to Cerruti et al. disclose dishwasher dispensing mechanisms which utilize electrically controlled actuators to selectively dispense two different materials.
